

POLICE REJOICE WHEN GIRL KILLS MAN THEY FEARED

Moniac Last of Two That Had Terrorized a Portion of Harlem.

SEQUEL TO ROMANCE.

Stabbed by Pretty Nicoline
Lenaire, His Former Sweetheart.

There was much rejoicing in "Little Italy" today when the news spread that "Chick" Moniac, the last of a triumvirate who had held that district in terror, had, like his comrades, met a violent end. A prominent police official to whom Moniac and his pals had given no end of trouble threw his cap in the air when he heard of it, and declared that Nicoline Lenaire, the young woman who stabbed him to death in her apartment at No. 223 East One Hundred and Ninth street, ought to receive honorable mention and several medals instead of being made a prisoner.

Lieut. Lasky of the East One Hundred and Fourth street station notified the Homeless Bureau of the District Attorney's office after the girl's arrest yesterday afternoon. They knew "Chick," whose right name was Frank, as Oct. 6 he was arrested for shooting Michael Barber of No. 3071 First avenue and was released on $5,000 bail. "That's good," was the answer to Lieut. Lasky's tidings. "We're glad he is dead."

Nicoline Lenaire was only one of Moniac's many flares, but her pretty beauty made a tremendous impression on the hardened bully and "gun man," and for a while their romance promised to endure.

Last night, just after Mrs. Lenaire had left the house to visit a sister in Astoria, Moniac called and asked to see the mother.

"You know she is out," said Nicoline. Moniac said he would wait for her, and sat down in the parlor. A few minutes later he slipped into the kitchen and caught the girl around the waist. She fought him off.

In the struggle a cloth was knocked from the safe in the corner in which her father keeps the earnings of a fish store at No. 217 First avenue. He demanded that she open the safe. She refused, but after another struggle gave him a false combination for it. When that failed, he cursed her and told her to give him the right numbers or he would hurt her seriously. She gave him another wrong number, and then armed herself with a long, sharp pointed knife.

When Moniac rose to make good his threat she stabbed him four times, once in the neck, twice in the breast and once in the back. Then she went to the police station, with her waist all torn from his attack, and told the police what she had done.

In Harlem Court today she was remanded in the custody of the Coroner.

POLICEMAN DENIES ALL.

Huntington Says He Had No Part
In the Robbery.

Patrolman Reuben R. Huntington, on trial before Judge Crain in General Sessions on charge of having assisted John Horay in robbing a Russian immigrant of $50 on May 14 last, took the stand in his own defense today and made a general denial of the charges against him.

He swore that he was not in Horay's house at the time the Russian lost his money. He denied every statement Horay had made in his confession, but admitted that he had long been Horay's friend and was godfather to both of his children. The case will be delivered to the jury this evening.

GAMBLING AGAIN IN RENO.

RENO, Oct. 30.—It has just been discovered that the new statutes and amendments law, which comes into effect next Jan. 1, will pave the way for a renewal of open gambling in this State, especially bridge and "five hundred." Under the present law even the simplest card games of women at evening parties are a felony if played for money. Every card game known to the West was specifically named and prohibited in the law. The new law names and bans only poker and seven and a half.

ITALIANS BEATEN BACK BY THE TURKS AT TRIPOLI'S GATES

London Hears Ottoman Forces
Are Regaining Ground—
Arabs Slain in City.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—A despatch from Constantinople says: "According to news from Tripoli published here, the Turks have captured the last of the Italian outer entrenchments and occupied the suburb Zahre and all approaches to Tripoli from the northwest." Before the battle the tribesmen took a solemn oath to sacrifice themselves to the last man in defense of their country. One hundred and fifty Arabs who were holding a certain position bound themselves together with straps fastened to their ankles and swore not to move from their tracks until their ammunition was exhausted.

Why is the soda cracker to-day such a universal food?

People ate soda crackers in the old days, it is true—but they bought them from a barrel or box and took them home in a paper bag, their crispness and flavor all gone.

To-day there is a soda cracker which is the recognized staple—Uneeda Biscuit.

Uneeda Biscuit are the most nutritious food made from flour and should be eaten every day by every member of the family from the youngest to the oldest.

Uneeda Biscuit—soda crackers better than any ever made before—made in the greatest bakeries in the world—baked to perfection—packed to perfection—kept to perfection—until you take them, oven-fresh and crisp, from their protecting package.
